APPARATUS

Gabriel Hendifar and Jeremy Anderson, co-founders of Apparatus, the New York-based studio, designed their loft—set in an erstwhile industrial building in the Flatiron District—to reflect their singular aesthetic. The open-plan layout stretches from the kitchen, past the dining area and to the living space—each featuring Apparatus lighting and furniture paired with vintage pieces. Surrounding the brass-clad, Saint Laurent-marble-topped kitchen island, for example, are a set of 1950s barstools (pictured).
